The kitten you are adopting has been fostered in a loving home. By petting, handling, and loving on them you will find a world of joy in having a cat that loves being with you. Expect your new kitten to be scared for the first 2-5 days. They have been displaced from an environment they know, and their true personalities may not show right away. If you have children it is best to let your new pet approach them.

If you already have a cat expect hissing and spitting. It could take weeks for your cats to become friends.

GFF does all it can to assure that our kittens are healthy. Before placing any cats for adoption, the kittens are examined for signs of injury or illness. Your kitten(s) have been spayed or neutered. They or a sibling have been tested for FIV/FelV, vaccinated to what their age allows, dewormed, chipped and treated for fleas.

We recommend that your adopted kitten(s) be taken to your veterinarian within 72 hours to be checked for any health related issues. If your veterinarian finds a medical problem with the animal, you may bring it back to us and choose another kitten at no additional cost. If a cat is not available or there is not one you like you can take 30 days to pick another cat. All sums with regards to the adoption are considered donations and as such, are nonrefundable. Not refund of money is given for adoption or vet expenses.

It is rare but occasionally a kitten may become sick in the days following the adoption. With their immature immune systems, kittens are more susceptible than older cats. There will be an adjustment period with most kittens. It is recommended to introduce to the kitten to your house slowly. Start by giving it a private place for a couple of days where it can adjust to the sounds of the house and then slowly increase its range.

Most people think cats are nocturnal but they are actually crepuscular. This means they are most active in the mornings and evening when light is dim, rather than nonexistent.

By signing below I agree to the following

To provide food, shelter and humane treatment at all times. To provide veterinary care including but not limited to annual immunizations as required by state law.

Our phone number is 256-960-0538. Please call with any questions or concerns you may have. If you find you are not able to keep the kitten(s) they may be returned to us within 7 days of the adoption. The adoption fee is nonrefundable. Remember: Cats are companion animals and need your time and attention.

I acknowledge and understand that all sums are considered donations and as such, are nonrefundable. As the owner of this animal, I release God's Feral Felines and / or any participating veterinary office of any and all damages resulting from spaying or neutering, and accept responsibility for any additional costs. I understand God's Feral Felines reserves the right to reclaim said animal if conditions are not complied with. I acknowledge that I have the means and am willing to provide all necessary medical care for said animal. I have read, acknowledge and agree to abide by the conditions of this adoption
